In the letter cited above the Deputy Commissioner reports that on account of the appearence of plague in the Nanjungud town the people of that place ~~who~~ are anxious to evacuate it & are unable to do so for want of a suitable camping ground outside it; ~~it is observed~~ that during the last epidemic the people lived in sheds built on the bank of the river Kapila and thereby suffered much from malarial fever and therefore recommends for the consideration of Government the resolution of the Municipal Board of the Nanjungud town of the 28th December 1901 to acquire ~~24~~ 24 acres and 6 guntas of land assessed on the whole at Rs.22-12-0 and estimated to cost Rs.1449/- or Rs.60 per acre, to the west of the town + to debit ~~for~~, the cost ~~being debited~~ to Plague Funds ~~for this~~.

The financial condition of the Nanjanjode Municipality which is as noted in the margin is not very satisfactory. It is therefore a matter for consideration as to how the cost of acquiring the land referred to could be met, & whether the Board is prepared ~~to~~ in the event of Govt granting a loan, to repay the same with interest in 5 years. This is however not a legitimate charge on Plague.

DEPUTY COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,
MYSORE DISTRICT,

Dated Mysore 5th November 1892.

From

A. Ranganadi Iyengar Esquire BA BL
Deputy Commissioner,
Mysore District.

To

The Chief Secretary to the Dewan of Mysore,

SIR,

I have the honor to state that the town of Nanjangud is at present very much overcrowded and full of narrow lanes, where sanitation and drainage are most defective -

2 In consequence of the increase of wet cultivation under the Kampur and Hulhalli channels and the extension of the Railway, Nanjangud has risen greatly in importance, and there is a large demand for houses and building sites - Besides its large and increasing permanent population, the pilgrims flocking to it on account of its famous temple are also increasing in numbers owing to the facilities offered by the Railway - As it is the house accommodation is so inadequate that two, three, or even four families are compelled to live in each house, and on the occasion of festivals in the temple the town is literally "crammed with people - Excepting the three main streets all the rest are very narrow and tortuous - The drainage also is very defective owing to the absence of proper drains and even the rain water is allowed to sink into the ground - The place is therefore very far from healthy and if epidemics once break out, they are virulent and prolonged - I Mr Stanilish Lee was asked some time ago to inspect the place and submit his proposals for improvement of its sanitation and drainage - He has had it surveyed and has given much time widening the lanes and opening out fresh roads, so as to admit of good ventilation and for the construction of drains. Endeavours are being made to give effect to his proposals. But as the houses have to be removed in widening lanes and making new roads diminishing the already insufficient house accommodation, I found it indispensable to make provision for extension of the town towards the southwest. This is the only direction in which extension is possible, as on the North, East and West the town is surrounded by the Kapani and Ippudal rivers and by the Residency grounds and topes belonging to the Palace and the Temple. Mr. Lee and Mr. Subbiayer Palace Controller, also inspected the drylands which I considered desirable to acquire for building sites, and have approved of my selection. The present limits of the town and the proposed extension will be seen

Encl. No. one

Dated 14th January 1902.

To.

H. Ramaiya Esq
Assistant Secretary to the Govt of Mysore, Local Boards Branch, Bangalore.

Sir,

I have the honor to state that during the Dasara Representative Assembly of 1901, it was proposed that "as the town of Channapatna is almost surrounded by water, arrangements may be made for extending the town on the Western side along the Chiligiri Road".

2 Plague is making its appearance again the people are very anxious to evacuate which they are unable to do for want of a good sanitary camping ground. During the last epidemic they were obliged to live in sheds put up on the banks of the kapila river and consequently suffered much from Malarial fever to which several persons succumbed. The people had to leave the sheds and return to their house in the town and some of the poor people are still suffering from the same complaint. The subject of selecting health camps for camping out has thus acquired urgent importance and it was discussed by the Municipal Board of at its meeting held on the 28th December 1901, when it was resolved to acquire the lands measuring 24 acres and 6 Guntahs at a cost of Rupees 1449 as detailed in the enclosed list. These lands are situated to the west of the town and comprise the only high ground available within easy access. These lands will eventually be useful for extending the town and will also supply sites for constructing a new Taluq Cutcherry, a munsiff's court and a travellers' Bungalow, all of which are necessary and will have to be undertaken sooner or later. But the Municipality is too poor to bear the charge of acquiring these lands. I beg you will therefore be so good as to obtain the sanction of Govt for the payment of amount Rs 1449,

is 60 Rs, but with the continuous increase the value of lands we will have to pay much higher rates later on if the lands are not bought in at once, and looking to the urgent necessity of the people camping out before the present Plague recrudescence obtains a hold in the town I venture to express the hope that Government will be pleased to sanction the funds now applied for. When the question of extending the town comes to be taken up the sale of building sites in this locality is expected to bring in large returns which would go a long way to recoup the proposed cost of acquiring the lands. The favour of orders at early convenience is earnestly solicited.
